Indian Village Church of God
Auburn, Indiana

United . . . We grow!!

The Indian Village Church of God was organized in May, 1971, as the result of the merger of two Church of God congregations: First Church of God, then located on Tenth and Jackson Streets and Auburn Church of God at Thirteenth and Jackson Streets.

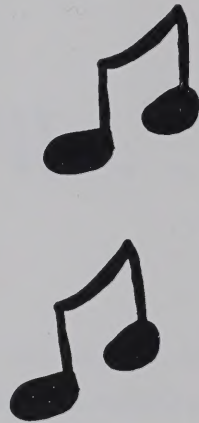

The Indian Village congregation is affiliated with two national organizations; The Church of God, with general offices in Anderson, Indiana, and The Churches of God of General Conference with general offices in Findlay, Ohio.

First Church of God (Churches of God) was organized in Auburn in 1887. Auburn Church of God was organized in Auburn in 1928.

The ground was broken for our present facilities, July 9, 1972. The new church was dedicated October 7, 1973.
